ACSNET

Australian Computer Science Network (ACSNET), also known as Oz, has its gateway through the CSNET node munnari.oz.au and if you cannot directly mail to the oz.au domain, try either username%munari.oz.au@UUNET.UU.NET or munnari! username@UUNET.UU.NET.

AT&T MAIL

AT&T Mail is a mailing service of AT&T, probably what you might call it's MCI-Mail equivalent. It is available on the UUCP network as node name attmail but I've had problems having mail get through. Apparently, it does cost money to mail to this service and the surrounding nodes are not willing to pick up the tab for the ingoing mail, or at least, this has seemingly been the case thus far. I believe, though, that perhaps routing to att!attmail!user would work.

AT&T recently announced six new X.400 interconnections between AT&T Mail and electronic mail services in the US, Korea, Sweden, Australia, and Finland. In the US, AT&T Mail is now interconnected with Telenet Communications Corporation's service, Telemail, allowing users of both services to exchange messages easily. With the addition of these interconnections, the AT&T Mail Gateway 400 Service allows AT&T Mail subscribers to exchange messages with users of the following electronic messaging systems:

Company	E-Mail Name	Country
TeleDelta	TeDe 400	Sweden
OTC	MPS400	Australia
Telecom-Canada	Envoy100	Canada
DACOM	DACOM MHS	Korea
P&T-Tele	MailNet 400	Finland
Helsinki Telephone Co.	ELISA	Finland
Dialcom	Dialcom	USA
Telenet	Telemail	USA
KDD	Messavia	Japan
Transpac	ATLAS400	France

The interconnections are based on the X.400 standard, a set of guidelines for the format, delivery and receipt of electronic messages recommended by an international standards committee the CCITT. International X.400 messages incur a surcharge. They are:

To Canada:

Per note: $.05
Per message unit: $.10

To other international locations:

Per note: $.20
Per message unit: $«0

There is no surcharge for X.400 messages within the US The following are contacts to speak with about mailing through these mentioned networks. Other questions can be directed through AT&T Mail's toll-free number, 1-800-624-5672.
